

I was very displeased to hear that the NAB was trying to get the FCC to limit the services that XMRadio provides to PAYING customers. I pay for these services so that I can have a variety of music to listen to commercial free. Companies pay to have their commercials on the radio, I pay to not hear them, which is my right. XMRadio provides me with the music my family and I like and has a channel of nothing but Nascar and most importantly, they provide me with the weather and the traffic. I don't feel that I should have to search regular radio stations hoping to find the weather and a traffic update. I pay to have it right there at my finger tips. I am asking that the FCC reject petition 04-160. I am an american and I am an adult who chooses to pay for all of these services provided by XMRadio, and some big wig shouldn't be aloud to take away my rights. Who are the NAB to decide what I should and shouldn't be allowed to recieve through satalite radio? I move out of my mother's house a long time ago. We customers made our choice of a company, let it be.
